

Editorial .....

It gives me immense pleasure to put this II & III issue of III volume of 'Navjyot' into the hands of the readers. The 'Navjot' was born out of the need, felt by the friendly group of university teachers, for a rightly platform to express the academic and scholarly views and opinions. The decision to come out with an Interdisciplinary Research Journal was justified, just at its beginning, with the response and popularity we received from the academic circle. Scholars and teachers over a vast geographical region across the nation has contributed to 'Navjyot' and traced the development and directions of various subjects and disciplines to this day. The overwhelming response from the contributors and readers inspired us to launch the digital version of 'Navjyot'.

For last three years 'Navjyot' is continuously inspiring the scholars to express their ideas and opinions for the benefit of academics. This has resulted into the addition of knowledge to many subjects. We hope more enthusiastic response in future and are committed to qualitative development of 'Navjyot'. Wish you all Very Happy Dashhara Diwali and Future.

Yours
